GETTYSBURG, Pa., June 30.—Arm in arm, America's dwindling band of Civil war veterans spanned 75 years today in their last joint return to Big Round Top, Seminary Ridge, The Bloody Angle—Gettysburg's historic battlefield.

Today was their own. No formal ceremonies in the six-day, 75th Gettysburg anniversary celebration were scheduled.

Spend Day Visiting
With permanent memories, they visited again the wheat field where bullets whizzing through ripened grain took a tragic toll in the second day's fighting.

They came back to Little Round Top where General Warren sped plunging Confederate muskets in the woods below and gave the order saving that strategic position.

They read in bronze lettering the deadly Union artillery order—"double canisters cut fire for 10 yards"—that halted Pickett's heroic charge.

Nearly 2,000 Present
In two and a half hours and in larger parties from the two veterans camps now housing almost 2,000 comrades, they went out from the bustling town to the national shrine that is this country's most famous battlefield.

"They've got our marker right where we stood," proudly exclaimed Maj. General C. R. Gillette, 93, of Bozeler, La., who was a lad of 17 in Hill's Confederate Corps at Gettysburg.

Gillette, a major when the war between the states ended at Appomattox, was on General George E. Pickett's left when the fatal assault of 15,000 Rebels against the Union line began on July 3, 1863.

When Pickett was ordered to make that charge, he charged with them," the southerner recounted. "Their muskets and artillery banged away, but we got on the hill."

HARRISBURG, June 30.—Another court battle between Attorney General Guy K. Bard and Republican District Attorney Carl B. Shelley appeared in prospect today as Shelley sought to keep his evidence secret from the Earle administration.

Shelley, now preparing his evidence for presentation to Judge Paul N. Schaeffer for a decision on whether it is sufficiently "credible" to warrant a grand jury investigation, objected to revealing it to Bard. The attorney general had earlier received permission to see the evidence when presented.

Contrary To Procedure.
The Dauphin county prosecutor, who won the first round of his fight with Bard when the court refused to uphold Bard's action in superseding him, was said to feel it was contrary to regular procedure to submit evidence to the chief legal adviser of Gov. George H. Earle, one of the 14 Democratic state officials and leaders charged with graft and corruption.

Judge Schaeffer, from his home in Reading, agreed Shelley had the right to argue this point in court. No definite date has been set but it was expected to be heard tomorrow.

Judge Schaeffer added Shelley at the same time had informed him he was unable to say definitely whether his evidence would be ready for presentation today.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—With the spirited Kentucky Democratic primary in mind, WPA Administrator Harry L. Hopkins today cracked back at what he called "malicious partisan attempts" to brand his huge relief-dispersing organization a political tool of the administration.

Hopkins served notice the WPA will take a fighting stand against all who seek to undermine the federal relief program by "malicious partisan gossip" and that it will prosecute any WPA worker found guilty of mixing politics with relief.

Denies W. P. A. Funds Used
His statement, a denial that WPA funds have been used to bulwark Senate majority leader Barkley of Kentucky, in his campaign against Gov. A. B. "Happy" Chandler, was immediately added to the long agenda of the Senate campaign expenditures investigating committee.

It followed in less than 24 hours a statement placed before the committee by Deputy WPA Administrator Aubrey Williams denying that WPA is paying "excessive" wages in states where administration candidates are facing stiff opposition in political campaigns.

Williams' statement made particular reference to Kentucky, Oklahoma, Virginia and North Carolina.

PITTSBURGH, June 30.—The first-day-old strike of more than 300 workers on the $3,500,000 Tionesta flood control dam was at an end today after closed shop agreements were signed here by union representatives, the general contractor and three sub-contractors.

Although the strike was originally aimed at the Murphy-Richman firm which is doing the tunnel work, the two day's negotiations here resulted in signed contracts with all four contractors. Unionizing contracts included the International Laborers Union, the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Stablemen & Helpers of America and the International Operating & Hoisting Engineers, all three being affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

IN ATTENDANCE

At the annual reunion of Volant college and the Volant community, homecoming which took place on Wednesday on the old college grounds in Volant, John B. Shaw, superintendent of highways for Lawrence county, was elected president of the reunion group for the coming year. It is expected that Mr. Shaw will attract the interest of the younger people of the community to the affair and that next year's reunion will show additional increase in attendance.

The largest crowd in the history of the reunions was present yesterday, the success of the annual affair being due in a large measure to the work of the retiring president, Henry C. Potter, Pittsburgh school official. Despite a serious illness during the year, he had worked hard for the success of the event, and saw his efforts rewarded.

The invocation was given by Rev. R. S. Naylor, pastor of the Volant M. E. church and music during the day was furnished by an orchestra under the direction of Don Potter, descendant of a pioneer Volant family.

Honors Deceased

The memorial address was given by Attorney Harvey E. Martin, of New Castle, when tribute was paid to the memory of John P. Lockhart, Dr. Harry Barnes, Mrs. Wilbur Calbreath, Maria Robinson, Mrs. J. B. Hook, Harlan Walters, John Thorpe, who have died during the past year, and to Mrs. C. M. Lockhart, who passed away during the preceding year.

Letters were read by the secretary from a great number of people who were unable to attend the reunion this year, but who expressed their regrets and asked to be remembered.

Mrs. Asher A. Gallbreath, of Rogers, O., wife of the founder of the college, and her two sons, Everett and Edward Gallbreath, were present, and expressed their gratitude (Continued On Page Two)

Schuschnigg
May Be Tried

(International News Service)

BERLIN, June 30.—That Kurt Schuschnigg, deposed chancellor of Austria, may be brought to trial before a Nazi court was hinted today by Joseph Buerckel, Nazi commissioner for Austria, in a statement at Vienna.

Announcing, according to the German official news agency, that 3,780 "political prisoners" are still being detained, Buerckel insisted that Schuschnigg was still in Vienna.

The commissioner said he "personally felt" that the ex-chancellor should be tried for the "judicial murder" of 13 persons "illegally hanged" during the Schuschnigg regime, and also for sentencing 30 others to death. "But the decision in that matter does not lie with me," said Buerckel.

NEW YORK, June 30.—Amid a furore of excitement reminiscent of the boom days, the New York Stock Exchange was a bedlam today as trading whirled at a dizzy pace on the heels of yesterday's record-breaking volume for the year of 2,558,000 shares at prices 1 to 7 points higher.

The ticker, running five to ten minutes behind in recording transactions in the first hours of trading, resorted to "flashing" prices.

Prices were again higher and buying was fast and furious. The floor of the exchange seethed with activity as brokers rushed in and out with fresh orders.

At 11 a. m. the ticker was running almost ten minutes behind.

Immediately the going sounded opening business for the day, the excitement broke loose. A flood of orders were dumped on the market.

They came from all over the country, and from abroad. The south and west were among the important sources of orders.

LONDON, June 30.—Count Constant Haugwitz-Reventlow is planning to come to London tomorrow and face the warrant for his arrest issued by the court, it was learned today. That he will not be actually taken into custody, however, after he gives an undertaking not to disturb the peace, was understood.

Until arrangements for the "peace pledge", which the countess, the former Barbara Hutton of New York, sought in connection with the custody of their son, Lance, can be completed, Count Court is remaining in Paris.

His attorneys are believed already to have approached a London magistrate in connection with the proposed undertaking. And the count will appear in Bow street court when he arrives.

NEW YORK, June 30.—President Roosevelt rode down to New York today to lay the federal building's cornerstone for the 1939 world's fair and firmly announced that "we are against war and have agreed among ourselves quickly to discuss difficulties in such a way that the possibility of war has become remote."

The chief executive spoke briefly at the world's fair site but he pressed the point that our "good neighbor" policy should be pushed throughout the world.

World Affairs Distract
Mr. Roosevelt, just before wielding the trowel, was gravely serious when he said:

"All of us realize, of course, that the affairs of many parts of the world are, to put it politely, somewhat distraught. Such a condition necessarily accompanies wars and rumors of wars."

An earnest plea for international peace was made by the president when he said that America's efforts to promote world-wide trade "that proven so successful in the western hemisphere that the American republics believe it could succeed in the rest of the world if the spirit which lies behind it were better understood."

HYDE PARK, June 30.—President Roosevelt was moving into New York City today to deliver two speeches, one of which it was anticipated might re-state the American government's position in the field of international affairs.

After being introduced by Mrs. Roosevelt, the chief executive was scheduled to address the annual convention of the National Education association this afternoon. The setting was to be the 1938 world fair grounds, and the fact he was facing a group of educators made it likely the president would discuss on world peace and the part teachers play in quieting threats of war.

Prior to speaking before the N. E. A. Mr. Roosevelt was to officially lay the cornerstone of the World Fair Federal building. The first address was to be delivered at 2 p. m. (EDT) and the second an hour later.

Rockets and pinwheels and loud salutes, crackers at every size, bearing their cheer for the day to come, helps us to realize that once again in a few more days we mark the glorious Fourth, and small boys look for a lot of noise on the day of the nation's birth. A loud boom means a lot to kids, with sparklers flashing at night, and pinwheels turning their merry round, all makes for a merry sight. Now you're much too big for that sort of thing, but you'll help in a sort of a way, won't you, then, on the summer days. That's a lovely eighty-three today.

Motorists who use East Washington street are hopeful that the State Highway Department will do something toward smoothing out that thoroughfare with a little top dressing. The roadway is quite rough from Ray street to the city line, particularly between the street car tracks.

At Cascade Park, Superintendent C. C. Coulbourn and his force of workmen are busy repairing damage done by the recent storm. Some of the damage was caused when large timbers of the old gorge ride, that had not been entirely taken down, some about twenty feet long and 12 by 12, were swept down by the high water, finally landing in the lake. One support of a bridge was damaged. It will require about another week to complete the work.

With the bass fishing season opening tomorrow, fishermen are hopeful that good weather conditions will prevail. The minimum size limit for bass to be retained after being caught has been raised to 10 inches this year, and the day's catch is limited to six.

Yesterday afternoon, the East Side street car came to a stop at the corner of Washington and Mill. (Continued On Page Two)

PITTSBURGH, June 30.—Pennsylvania's disciples of Isaac Walton today were busy getting their rods and reels into shape for the opening of the state's general fishing season tomorrow.

Although heavy rains last week-end for a time cast a pessimistic outlook on what may well turn out to be the greatest season ever enjoyed in this state, anglers today brightened noticeably as the weather continued moderately good throughout the state. Not a few were already mentioning the one that got away last year—and which they anticipated hooking this season, of course!

This will be the second summer the law has allowed Sunday fishing in Pennsylvania, and it is expected the opportunity will be snatched up by thousands of men, women and children who otherwise would be unable to participate.

Streams Well Stocked
If bass fishermen don't catch anything this season, it certainly won't be due to the efforts of the fish commission. During the past summer 357,409 bass, a new record, were stocked in Pennsylvania waters, according to C. A. French, state fish commissioner. He pointed out that slightly cloudy weather was best for bass fishing, at the same time warning the size limit this year is 10 inches and the creel limit six fish.

Fire, which started from tar boiling over in a room built onto the rear of the home of W. W. Byers, at Neshannock Falls, this morning at 9:30 o'clock, caused a loss of around $1,500, partly covered by insurance. New Wilmington firemen, who were summoned to the scene, succeeded in checking the blaze after a valiant fight.

According to Mr. Byers, he was heating tar on an oil stove in the room, to repair the roofs of his chicken coops. He did not realize that the fire in the stove was as hot as it was and the tar boiled over and ignited.

W.P.A. workers, who were employed at a stone quarry nearby were notified and carried the furniture from the burning structure, while a call was sent to New Wilmington for help. The New Wilmington department arrived at the scene in record time, and laid a line of hose into a swamp in the rear of the Byers property, getting enough water to check the blaze.

The rear end of the house was burned away, but the major portion of the structure, which contained eight rooms, was saved.

The second floor of the house was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Wilson and three children Mrs. Wilson and the children were able to get safely out of the home, when the fire broke out.

The amount of insurance carried on the home does not fully cover the loss, Mr. Byers stated.

At a quiet church wedding in the United Presbyterian church at Plaingrove, Miss Elizabeth McNulty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ransom McNulty of this vicinity, became the bride of William Frederick Remaley, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Remaley of Grove City, on Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock. Both had a host of friends in this and surrounding vicinities.

The vows were pronounced in the presence of the immediate families with the Reverend J. C. Fulton, pastor, officiating with the single ring service.

Proceeding the ceremony, Harold Burns of Ellwood City, accompanied by his wife, Mrs. Burns, and a cousin of the bride, sang several selections. Mrs. J. C. Fulton played appropriate music throughout the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Uber were their only attendants.

A wedding dinner followed at the home of the bride's parents, and following the newlyweds departed on a two weeks motor trip through the New England States. Upon their return, they will reside in Grove City where they will be at home to friends after July 15.

The bride is a graduate of Plaingrove High school, and Slippery Rock State Teachers college. She has been a member of the teachers staff in the Volant schools for the past six years. The bridegroom is a graduate of Grove City High and attended Grove City college. He is now affiliated with the McKay Body Works in Grove City.

Families and friends of the Queen Esther Auxiliary of the First M. E. church, numbering 60, enjoyed the auxiliary's annual picnic on Tuesday, June 28, at the park in New Wilmington.

A beautiful dinner was served by Miss Nettie Clarke, chairman, and her committee which included Mrs. Margaret Elmore, Mrs. Russell Shields, Mrs. M. R. Hornung, Mrs. J. L. Pink, Miss Mildred Sargent and Martha Bigley. After the picnic group had gathered at the table, Martha Bigley led in the singing of "America," while each held aloft a lit red sparkler.

Rev. W. V. McLean gave the invocation. Tables were decorated with red, white and blue papers and flags.

An informal social time was enjoyed following dinner. This event closes the activities of the auxiliary until the third Tuesday in September.

Hadassah Chapter Ends Year With Luncheon At Field Club

New Castle Chapter of Hadassah brought its very active year to a close with a brilliant affair in the form of an installation luncheon at the New Castle Field club on Tuesday afternoon. Approximately 60 were in attendance. This luncheon was a tribute to the outgoing and incoming officers.

As the guests stepped into the dining room, they were transferred to an oasis, the decorations being carried out with palm trees and camels, painting a very real picture.

Mrs. J. Cobb, acting president, welcomed the members and guests and after the invocation by Rabbi Jacob Epstein, a sumptuous luncheon was served.

Mrs. Cobb introduced Mrs. Jack Conn, program chairman, who took command for the remainder of the afternoon, enacting the role of toastmistress. After a word of welcome, a "sit down strike" was enacted by the outgoing officers. Those taking part were: Mrs. L. Groden, Mrs. J. Kulkin, Mrs. A. Fisher, Mrs. J. Markley and Mrs. J. Cobb. This skit proved most entertaining to the guests and was heartily received.

Greetings were brought from local and neighboring organizations: Mrs. Edward Kellie, Ellwood City Chapter of Hadassah and Council; Mrs. Sam Wolfe, Tifereth Israel Sisterhood; Mrs. Irvin Grossman, National Council of Jewish Women; Mrs. Maurice Davis, Temple Israel Sisterhood; Mrs. Jack Leiby, Ladies' Relief Society; Miss Ince Rosenberg, Junior Hadassah; Mrs. Olive Howell, Leadership Group Leader; Mrs. Mark Levine, Clarksburg, W. Va., past president of the local Chapter.

Miss Dorothy Fisher, student of the Juilliard Institute of Music in New York City, was introduced and she presented a beautiful piano solo, entitled "Ballade in G Minor" by Chopin.

Mrs. Max Reinhardt, of Ellwood City, installing officer, was next introduced. In a clever way, Mrs. Reinhardt installed the new officers for the year, 1938-39. Those installed were: president, Mrs. J. Cobb; first vice president, Mrs. L. Groden; second vice president, Mrs. A. Fisher; third vice president, Mrs. J. Kulkin; recording secretary, Mrs. R. Rubenstein; corresponding secretary, Mrs. J. Markley; financial secretary, Mrs. G. Sovansky; treasurer, Mrs. J. Gerson.

The highlight of the afternoon was the guest speaker, Mrs. J. A. Markel, prominent Pittsburgh attorney, who has been chosen in "Who's Who of American Women." Mrs. Markel has taken over the chairmanship of Youth Aliyah for the Pittsburgh Hadassah Chapter. She chose as her topic, "Candid Camera Shows of Hadassah." She re-enacted the National Hadassah Convention which was held in Atlantic City. Her candid camera shots left very vivid impressions on the guests. Mrs. Markel stressed the Youth Aliyah program of Hadassah which is the transfer of Jewish Youth from destitute countries into the land of sunshine, Palestine. The Youth Aliyah program was started in January, 1936, with Miss Henrietta Szold herself launching the fund raising campaign. Boys and girls have been rescued from conditions of utter hopelessness and given a new opportunity for a useful and happy life. Mrs. Markel held her audience spellbound by her dramatic and dynamic personality.

Mrs. L. F. Kohn and Mrs. J. Kulkin were called upon for their joint report on Youth Aliyah in New Castle. The local Chapter had as their goal, $860. This goal was reached with the fine response of some of the members.

Miss Dorothy Fisher brought the program to a close with the Chopin "Ballade in A Flat Major."

Following the benediction by Rabbi Epstein, all joined in the singing of Harkina.

Those responsible for making this affair the brilliant success it was included: program, Mrs. J. Conn, chairman, Mrs. L. Groden, Mrs. L. F. Kohn, Mrs. L. Reinhardt, decorations, Mrs. J. Markley, chairman, Mrs. Irvin Grossman, Mrs. Jack Conn, Mrs. J. Cobb, reservations, Mrs. A. Fisher, chairman, Mrs. D. Tobin, Mrs. William Cohen, Mrs. Henry Cohen.

Mrs. Bertha Daugherty, 203 North Walnut street, has returned home from Washington, Pa., where she attended the 72nd State Encampment of the Department of Pennsylvania Grand Army and other affiliated organizations. She represented Auxiliary No. 249, Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War.

There were 300 delegates at the convention and approximately 1200 visitors. Eighteen Civil War veterans attended, the youngest being 88 years of age, and the oldest, 101.

Others from New Castle who attended were Mrs. Helen Ray, Hillcrest, avenue; Mrs. Rose Tripp, Highland avenue; Mrs. Margaret Hannon, Superior street; Mrs. C. Hoover, Neshannock avenue; Mrs. Lulu Schettom and Mrs. Minnie Mayers, Scott street.

Honored At Party
Mr. and Mrs. Carl L. Snyder were honored at a party given on a recent evening by Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Buchanan, in their home in New Wilmington. Mr. and Mrs. Snyder are home on a visit from Venezuela, and plan to return there about the middle of July.

The early part of the evening was spent playing 600, with prizes for high score going to Mrs. David McKnight and Reid Cummings. Later, luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. G. J. Park, Maxine Cummings, Mrs. H. V. Everhart and Edrey Pontius.

The climax of the evening's activities was when the honored guests were presented with a miniature trunk, which was found to contain remembrances from their friends.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AFTER

The warm June sun beats down today upon the peaceful green fields of Gettysburg and there is nothing that meets the eye that would even faintly suggest that Seminary Ridge and Big Round Top and Bloody Angle, where the healing processes of nature have covered the scarred earth with grass and verdure, were once scenes of carnage.

About two thousand venerable men, feeble and faltering, and in many instances with minds that dwell in the past, are gathered at Gettysburg to commemorate the greatest battle ever fought on American soil. It was here, seventy-five years ago, that General Robert E. Lee, in command of the Army of Northern Virginia in his invasion of Pennsylvania in the third year of the war, engaged the Union Army of the Potomac under command of General George Gordon Meade. After three days of slaughter, marked by the failure of Lee to dislodge the Union forces from their positions to the south of Gettysburg, the Confederate Army withdrew across the Potomac to Virginia.

It is not pleasant to recall this battle, or, for that matter, any phase of the Civil War, which brought Americans into conflict with Americans, wrought the destruction of thousands of young lives, laid great sections of the country in waste and left a heritage of hatred and of misery which has not entirely passed even in our own day. Nevertheless, it is inspiring to know that Americans on both sides, North and South, displayed sublime heroism and fortitude in the face of death and the traditional agonies attendant upon war.

Now, three-quarters of a century later, the old men who wore the Blue and the Gray as boys, who struggled three days under the withering sun for supremacy and who left many thousands of their dead behind them, have returned to the scene of their suffering, their sorrow and their glory. This sentimental journey will be both pleasant and sad. Few of them will ever return to the old battlefield again. Yet, there is a measure of satisfaction in the knowledge that it is as true today as when Lincoln said it that the world can never forget what they did there.

SOFTBALL GAINS IN POPULARITY

Softball, because it is faster, more exciting, and easier to play than baseball, has displaced it as the national pastime, in the opinion of John McCarthy, prominent sports writer, writing for Commentator Magazine. Today softball is not only played but witnessed by more people than baseball. Approximately 63,000 persons witnessed softball games through the nation last year. More than 11,000 men and women participated in softball games in 434 cities. At the three-day national tournament held annually in Chicago, a 200,000 attendance was not unusual. And yet 1937 was only the fourth season, under organized auspices, of the game.

In several cities, particularly St. Louis, the paid attendance of Major League baseball teams is regularly much less than that of the local softball teams. Night softball games also are giving serious competition to the movies. In Philadelphia, 150 of these teams are engaged in red hot tournament play. There they are supplying terrific competition for the second division Phillies and Athletics.

The Commentator finds that softball too has its high salaried stars. One pitcher, Matt Ruppert, made some $40,000 last year. He holds a record of having hurled more than a hundred no-hit games. Another pitching star, Harry Kraft, also on the high salary list, holds a record of striking out 38 men in a 19-inning national tournament game. Both rank with the Dizzy Deans and Carl Hubbels of baseball.

Baseball has more to worry about in softball competition than all other sports put together, concludes The Commentator writer.

CIRCUS STRIKE IS BOMERANG

The folding up of "the greatest show on earth" at the threshold of its most prosperous season can hardly be a cause of pride to the roustabouts who have been influenced into jockeying themselves and an army of performers willing to work out of their jobs, and deprived a multitude of patrons, from coast to coast, of their eagerly anticipated annual feast of thrilling entertainment.

The big circus pulled out from Scranton yesterday on its far from triumphant journey back to its winter quarters in Florida. Rather than work for less pay, in order that the show might go on, the roustabouts decided not to work at all.

The performers were willing to do their stuff. The daring young man on the flying trapeze was not too airy. He felt that he could pocket the cut with the greatest of ease. The India rubber man in the side-show was ready to stretch a point. The living skeleton complacently accepted ten bones less a week. The fat woman didn't object to a little reducing. There wasn't a growl from Gargantua, the giant gorilla, and even the mules didn't kick.

We once had a year without a summer. But a summer without a circus approaches a national disaster. Hundreds deprived of jobs. Hundreds of thousands deprived of a red letter day in the calendar of fun.

Who wins? Nobody. All lose. And most of all those who brought this about.

Control of the European situation has passed from the starry-eyed idealists to the clear-eyed realists with blackpicks.

Trotsky apparently is becoming peaceful and mellow in his old age. Mexico, where he is exiled, stages a revolution and the old maestro remains an innocent bystander.

A captions reader takes issue with a Western cartoon that shows the legs of a swastika pointing the wrong way. However, there is a school of thought that believes that regardless of how the legs of a swastika point it would be wrong.

The master tailors announce that clothes for men are to have color, pleats and plenty of umph. Master tailors announce these innovations quite conservatively, but clothes for men nevertheless remain just about the same, quite conventional garments, with little suggesting umph.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

SIMPLE HEALTH OBJECTIVES

In the early years of the child, his health habits depend almost entirely on the nurse or mother. By the age of five or six, any normal child, if properly guided, can be taught to observe the following rules of health and personal cleanliness:

Take a daily bath. Brush the teeth twice every day. Wash hands always after going to the toilet. Use own towel, washcloth and drinking cup. Sleep long hour in the open or with open windows. Hang clothes at night on line to air. Drink a quart of milk a day. Drink at least two cups of water between meals. Play out-of-doors every day with other children. Have a bowel movement every morning. Use a handkerchief properly, and always have one handy. Turn head and cover the mouth when coughing or sneezing. Keep fingers out of nose. Keep hands away from face and hair. Keep fingers and articles out of mouth.

At the age of five we can reasonably expect the child to have learned in regard to food and eating:

To take mouthfuls of suitable size. To chew food thoroughly. To eat food without waste. To empty mouth before taking a drink. To eat all food that is served, without comment about the food. To eat only at mealtime. To have no food dainties.

Keep Goals in Mind. Most of us parents would be very happy to observe such achievements. Though most of us may fail, let us keep on struggling with these goals in mind.

Here are some health signs all of us can observe in our child: Eyes are bright with clear vision. Hearing is good. Skin is clear, with good color, and no circles under the eyes. Hair is abundant, glossy and elastic. Flesh is firm. Muscles also firm. Bones straight. Teeth in good condition (no cavities). Breath not unpleasant. Posture good—straight, stands tall, toes straight, practically no slouching. Good elimination, with at least one regular bowel movement daily. Good natured, happy, active mentally and physically. Does not tire easily, sleeps well, is free from headaches and colds, not susceptible to disease, and makes regular normal increase in weight and height.

It is a good thing for us to have our children checked regularly by a competent physician, even when they seem to be entirely well.

PAID SUBSCRIPTIONS

Mr. Fred L. Reitz, President of the Company publishing this paper has a record of some fifty-six years of service to The News.

Mr. Frank M. Pfaffinger, Treasurer of the Times-Mirror Company, publishers of the Los Angeles Times, has fifty-two years of service to the Times, to this date.

Each of these men are outstanding personalities. Each have a lot on the ball. There is one thing about Pfaffinger, however, which is probably unique in the newspaper world. He subscribes to and pays the full subscription price to the Times.

People who boast that they have read the Times for forty years only get a sense of feckless encouragement from Pfaffinger, who says: "That's the way I got my start." Mr. Pfaffinger has been a paid subscriber to The Times for fifty-two years.

He dates back to the time when every subscriber counted a lot. Early in his career he took $10 from General Harrison Gray Otis's desk to pay the General's subscription in advance for a year. The General protested that he owed the paper, but Mr. Pfaffinger retorted: "We all pay for it and you must too. Every paid subscription counts."

When the General got through explaining he realized that Pfaffinger was right and just the man for the Treasurer, and he has been Treasurer ever since.

What Noted People Say

(International News Service)
NEW YORK—Pearl S. Buck writer, addressing the National Parent Association:

"A sort of life seems to be coming in which books could be largely eliminated and their loss scarcely noticed. Indeed, it is here already for many people. Literature seems to be slowly dying of uselessness."

HOLLYWOOD—Laise Rainer, screen star:
"For the first time in my life I am taking an interest in clothes."

CHICAGO—Gov. Philip F. La Follette, of Wisconsin, denouncing the theory of eugenics in production:
"It is only when the nation begins to produce less that we hear the cry 'over production.' We never hear it when everyone is at work."

NEW YORK—Babe Ruth, spared an auto crash:
"Depth reached out and pulled me on the cheek."

Now we are told the moon has jumped its track and is slowing down. An astronomer gives us this news. Blame it on the depression.

There wouldn't be so many fatal automobile accidents if our ancestors had planted the trees in the right places.

The poor capitalists are blamed for everything. They get the credit for making the depressions and then get cussed for not stopping them—and pay most the taxes for such a privilege.

TODAY'S STORYTELLERS

The other day a brief news dispatch announced that a gay New Yorker right in the middle of a party flung up the window and dove to his death on the sidewalk below. He was despondent.

The crowd shook its head, donned its wraps and the merry-making was at an end.

Tom, the barky, heard about the tragedy at his place down the street away there for him.

"He was a swell customer," Tom said, "and a swell gent when you got to know him. It was sure a tough break for me when he decided to kill himself."

"Way?" replied the barky in answer to a question. "Just because the louse owed me $7."

President Roosevelt once said the United States could stand a debt of fifty billion. He is near the mark now and still has about two years to go. He will make it and more.

LIFE'S LITTLE AGONIES
Rastus stood at the end of the bar. He was a little tight. "When Ah kisses my wife," he said, "she jes closes her eyes so tight."

Sambo, a little fellow at the other end of the bar wanted to appear interested at what the big fellow was saying so he replied: "All say she do."

We know a woman who always keeps her husband's shoes shined. He don't live on a farm, of course. She wants her husband's shoes to look nice.

Then there is the North Park matron who had to quit reading the newspaper abroad because she got tired of having the kids correct her pronunciation.

Security doesn't always increase value. Communities that have the fewest strangers are most suspicious of the few they have.

When a railroad locomotive is yanked out of the roundhouse and placed on the turntable, it doesn't know whether it is headed for New York or Buffalo.

It is nice to command respect, but the effort won't buy any knickknacks for the family cupboard.

A MEMORY JOGGER
A local business man is quite proud of his Sunday school class work but he didn't tell this one that happened in his class not long ago.

After the story of Samson and the Philistines had been worked over by the class the teacher began asking the usual questions to find out how much the children had got out of the reading.

"Now can anyone tell me what weapon Samson used to slay the Philistines?" he asked.

No one answered. Then, to jog their memory, the teacher tapped his own forehead and said: "It brought prompt results."

"The jawbone of an ass," chirped one bright youngster.

It's a good thing to start now to try to be careful on the Fourth of July. Just like driving an automobile—look out for the other fellow.

Foreman—Snap into it, you fellows. We've got to get this building completed.
Laborer—All right, boss. But Rome wasn't built in a day.
Foreman—I know. But if I had been building the job I would have been finished a lot quicker.

An Indiana boy, who swallowed two pennies, coughed up three. That must be some kind of interest on his money—human interest pennies.

Ethel—Understand that man Bithmore said he knew me when I was a little girl.
Albert—You misunderstood then. He said he knew you when he was a little boy.

Always men are being shot by hunters who mistake them for crocodiles. It seems to us that a man should be able to tell a crocodile from a human being before he is allowed a gun to handle.

"How lucky I am," laughed the stout man, "I thought I sat down on my hat but I see it is someone else's."

"You mean how unlucky you are," said the slender man rolling up his sleeves. "That's my hat."

We notice dogs loitering around the evergreens on the library grounds. We have even seen people leading dogs and let them contaminate the evergreens. Why not sprinkle a little something sharp on the greens once in a while.

The most interesting newspaper ever published would contain the information that the reporters now keep to themselves.

Old Lady Arent was ashamed of herself for letting stones at that little boy.

Alman—No, I didn't. He's got wiggly ears and if I went close enough to hit him with my fist I might catch it.

It isn't until after a man gets the exclusive rights of a thing that others try to horn in.

We noticed an advertisement in The News the other day where some person was willing to take people from New Castle to the New Wilmington swimming pool for revenge, of course.

PRACTICING UP

"I wish you would stop going that wickidway in baby's face," said the child's mother. "Whatever do you think you are trying to do?"

"You know your father is coming to visit us soon and we don't want him to feel offended, do you?" said the young husband.

"But what's that got to do with it?" demanded the wife.

"Just think how mad he would be if he tried to kiss the baby and she pulled away from those whiskers of his?"

When a doctor reaches out, one never knows whether he wants to shake hands or feel one's pulse.

What's What At A Glance

Attorney General Spurred
Anti-Monopoly Probe Is Tonic
Will Speed Action In Own Cases

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, June 30.—The anti-monopoly investigation has put a burr under the justice department's tail even before the quiz has begun.

The department, for a long time, has had a lot of anti-trust cases under consideration without doing much about any of them. Maybe it realized that there was little it could accomplish under the terms of the present Sherman law or maybe it lacked sufficient evidence to act on. However, it does not appear to have tried very hard, perhaps, for no other reason than pure official dilatoriness.

But it cannot afford to be caught with a big batch of such neglected business on hand now—not with that investigation beginning.

NO "WHITWASH"

Most of the inquiries are administrative, and as the administration is strongly anti-monopoly, undoubtedly they will do their best to do a thorough job. Their chairman, Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney, is authority for the assurance that the affair will not be a whitewash, either.

On the opposite hand, the administrative investigators probably will refrain, as far as possible, from creating an embarrassing situation for one of the administration's own departments—the justice department.

The point is that not quite all of the investigators are administrative.

COULD MAKE IT "HOT"

Senator William E. Borah is not. Oh, he is New Dealerish in many of his ideas, but he is a good enough Republican not to hesitate at making a Democratic attorney general and, through him, a Democratic White House incumbents uncomfortable.

Sensors Borah and O'Mahoney inspired this investigation. Perhaps Borah inspired it a bit more than O'Mahoney did, although O'Mahoney technically backs in a rather more liberal than Borah because the former is of the now command political party.

BORAH, THE "BURN"

O'Mahoney is muddling independent. Still essentially he is after nothing except facts. Even if these uncovered should reveal conditions rather awkward for the justice department, I can imagine that he might be satisfied with the facts themselves, without rubbing them into Attorney General Homer S. Cummings.

Not so Senator Borah.

A MEAN QUESTION
Suppose the investigation develops a big batch of evidence indicating persistent, long-standing violations of the anti-trust law.

It would be just like Borah to say: "All this is quite obvious, and ought to have been obvious all along to the justice department. Why hasn't it done anything?"

Which would be in such an event, a mean question to answer.

WITH A RUSH—

Well, the department, I understand, is rushing to forestall an essentially of this sort by getting after monopolistic suspects with a sharp stick in short order.

They say that within 60 days the federal courts simply will be congested with anti-trust proceedings.

The story is that the department will begin on the movie folk—the ones who, it is charged, compel movie houses to subscribe to a bunch of punk films in order to get an occasional decent one.

Of course the department will not get anywhere in 60 days.

But, when Senator Borah asks his question, it will be in a position to reply:

"Give us time. We are acting as fast as possible."

This is where we live, and so, where we live and where we die. This is where at rest we lie.

While the world goes rushing by. This is where, in idle hours, We meet birds and bees and flowers.

Here we put the shams aside. Here the day begins and ends; Here our guts are all untied.

Here we entertain our friends; Here it is we spend the years. Here it is we shed our tears.

Here is where our happiness starts; Here is where our books are read; Here is the haven of the heart.

Here is where our prayers are said; This is home, where all may see Just what we have dared to be.

The Great Game Of Politics

To Let Things Jell

WASHINGTON, June 30.—When the death of Senator O'Mahoney occurred last week it was generally felt that the New York Democratic situation, which for months had been in a state of confusion, would become still further confused. No one, it was asserted, knew what would happen now. All calculations were up.

AS A MATTER OF FACT, the reverse has happened. Instead of becoming more confused the situation seems to have simplified. Governor Lehman, in all probability, will be the candidate for one of the Senatorial seats, and Senator Wagner, unless dented for the Governorship, for the other. So far as the gubernatorial nomination is concerned, nothing definite will be determined until the end of August. The primaries are not held until September. The nominations are made by delegates at conventions, a majority of which will be controlled by the State leaders.

CHIEF among these is Mr. Parley, but they include Mr. Kelly and Mr. Flynn and various others. Actually, the situation is in their hands and any one who thinks differently does not know the realities of New York State politics. Neither the interests of Mayor LaGuardia, who has fallen out with Governor Lehman, nor the wishes of Mr. D. Dubose, of the American Labor party, an essential C. I. O. organization, will change the facts. The gubernatorial candidacy of Attorney General Bennett is not taken very seriously. Congressman Mead of Buffalo, who is more or less the rubber-stamp type of New Deal representative, is a possibility, but back in the minds of the leaders still lurks the desire to draft Senator Wagner.

IN THAT EVENT, Mr. Mead, with organization backing and White House blessing, might run for the Senatorship. But neither will be done for six weeks and more. In brief, no situation is to be allowed to jell. If or the last of August it seems that Democratic success can be insured only by the Wagner nomination for Governor it may be put up to Mr. Wagner in such a way that he can't refuse. If, however, a sentiment has developed around some other likely man, word will be sent down the line for him. And there is always the anxious and amenable Mr. Mead to fall back on. One of the chief reasons for wanting Mr. Wagner to run is that it would not be necessary to make any deal with

Legion Head Denies Reports

Commander Doherty Refutes Statements Attacking Legion Organization

MAKES ADDRESS AT N. E. A. CONVENTION

(BULLETIN)

NEW YORK, June 30. (National Association of American Legionnaires) — Commander Doherty, president of the American Legion, today denied reports that he had been elected to the position of president of the National Association of American Legionnaires.

According to reports, Doherty was elected to the position of president of the National Association of American Legionnaires at a convention held in New York City last night.

The national commander bitterly assailed reports that he had been elected to the position of president of the National Association of American Legionnaires.

In the report, released by Teachers College on Sunday, Commander Doherty was said to have been elected to the position of president of the National Association of American Legionnaires.

At a meeting of 15,000 members of the N. E. A. in Madison Square Garden, Doherty was prepared to answer the question, "What is the Legion?" He said, "The Legion is a great organization, and it is the duty of every American citizen to support it."

"It is most unfortunate," Doherty said, "that certain individuals have in recent years released radical and

The Governor must be a Roosevelt man. For this reason they are violently opposed to Mr. Bennett.

IF THEY were a little more experienced they would know how foolish this idea is. The Governor of New York will not continue the next election. Certainly Mr. Bennett would not continue it if elected. Nor Mr. Mead, nor even Senator Wagner. When Mr. Roosevelt himself was Governor of New York, he never had control of a majority of the legislature—not even in 1932 when he was a Presidential candidate. The 1940 delegation will be controlled by the machine leaders in exactly the same way it always has been and if they live, this means Mr. Fieley, Mr. Flynn, Mr. Kelly, their political associates and friends.

One of the most extraordinary observations of the charming young gentlemen who have so much influence with Mr. Roosevelt these days is that, with Presidential approval, they can run New York Democratic politics. The ridiculous collapse of the brilliant Mr. Robert Jackson's gubernatorial dreams ought to have convinced them of the fallacy of that but apparently it did not.

Swedish Royalty In New Jersey For Dedication Of Fortress Replica

(International News Service)

SALEM, N. J., June 30.—Four days' celebration of the 300th anniversary of the landing of the first Swedish colonists in America came to a close today as Prince Bertil, son of Sweden's ailing crown prince, members of his entourage and high state officials moved into New Jersey for the final tercentenary program.

With Governor A. Harry Moore escorting the visiting Swedish dignitaries, officers of the Finnish tercentenary delegation and others, the climax of New Jersey's part in the observance was to be reached here with dedication of a replica of Fort Elfborg, ancient fortress built by the early Scandinavian settlers against rival Dutch in the new world.

Prince Bertil, assisted by his mother, Crown Princess Louise, and Dr. Rudolph Holsti, Finland's minister of foreign affairs, was to dedicate the replica. The Rt. Rev. Wallace J. Garner, bishop of the Episcopal diocese of New Jersey, was on hand to receive the royal party at memorial services in historic Holy Trinity church, Swedesboro, preceding the Salem ceremonies.

A score of southern New Jersey communities were to be greeted by the prince following luncheon at the Salem County club. Later this afternoon the royal visitors were to leave for Hyde Park, N. Y., where they will be guests of President and Mrs. Roosevelt.

Tercentenary Is Near Conclusion

LONDON.—Although emergency food storage has been started, Britain will rely chiefly for essential supplies in the event of war on her capacity to retain command of the seas.

This was made clear by Oliver Stanley, president of the Board of Trade, when he presented in the House of Commons supplementary estimates to cover British recent purchases of food for emergency storage.

Stanley admitted a storage policy which would make Britain independent of outside supplies for anything but a limited period would be "a most gigantic task, involving huge sums of money."

It was better for the nation to spend the money on the fighting services, particularly the navy, to insure command of the seas in war time. Hoarding of food by British housewives will be permitted, it was stated.

But what if the taxpayer is compelled to help his country? The soldier is a hero and his service was drafted, too.

Educator To Hail 90th Birthday By Rowing His Dory

GAMBRIDGE, Mass.—Charles R. Lauman, professor-emeritus of Harvard University, and for long a water mark on the Charles River, plans to celebrate his 90th birthday next month by rowing his dory. Professor Lauman claims to have rowed more miles on the Charles River than any other living man. He was a familiar figure on the basin waters until illness caused him to quit the sport about two months ago.

Known as "Daddy" to Harvard oarsmen of the past 20 years and the confident of crew coaches, Professor Lauman figured that he had rowed enough and for years served as professor of India philology.

Sex Crimes In State Cause Of Official Alarm

State Has Instituted Survey
Of Certain Mental Cases
In Commonwealth

COURT ACTION IS STRESSED

JEFFERSON, Pa., June 30.—Apprehension of the large number of sex crimes in the state is the cause of official alarm. The state has instituted a survey of certain mental cases as part of a plan to decrease the number of sex crimes.

Secretary of Welfare, Charles I. Frazier, announced he had asked for detailed information regarding defective delinquents, both those in institutions and on parole, from officials of the following state institutions: Eastern and Western Penitentiaries, the Pennsylvania Industrial School, the Pennsylvania Training School, and the state-owned Glen Mills School and Spaulding Farm.

The information will be used to determine the cause of the sex crimes and to make it possible to institute a plan to decrease the number of sex crimes. The information will be used to determine the cause of the sex crimes and to make it possible to institute a plan to decrease the number of sex crimes.

With the completion of the new industrial school for boys in Cumberland county, the Hamilton Industrial School will become a state institution.

None would then be paroled, stated Edward, until institution authorities were convinced they could be safely permitted to return to normal life. Even then, he added, they would be under the most rigid investigation.

Back For Visit

Former Tin Mill Doubler Here

—Invented Mill Doubling Machine

Returning to the city where he worked as a tin mill doubler for 16 years, William L. "Billy" Jenkins, now of Canonsburg, Pa., stopped in The News office Wednesday afternoon to chat over old times with one of his best New Castle friends, Fred L. Rantz.

"Billy" everyone knew him as that—visiting this week at the home of Norris Mitchell at New Bedford. He has been moving around in different cities during the past few days.

While he earned considerable fame when he wrote two famous songs, "The Amalgamated Man" and "Bob Fitzsimmons," the Champion of Then All, Billy's efforts were not confined to music. For it was he who invented the first doubling machine used in a tin plant. They're still used the country over.

Billy left New Castle in 1910, 26 years ago, but during his visit yesterday he easily recalled names of his old friends, associates of an earlier day. As lively a Billy as ever, he enjoyed every minute of his stay in the office of Mr. Rantz.

Another unusually low bid for painting was let on Wednesday when the county commissioners awarded H. J. Sanford the contract for painting the library and the judges' chamber, at his price of $246.

There is a lot of painting work to be done. Not only are the walls and ceiling to be painted, and the wood work varnished, but the scaving around the walls of the lawyers' room must be painted. The finishing coat for the work will be enamel.

There was a wide divergence in the prices submitted. They ranged from $450 down to the low bid of $146.

There will be no branch stations in the county this year where county taxes can be paid. V. I. Mandich, county treasurer, announced, Mr. Mandich can find no law that permits this practice although it has been done in past years. All payments must be made either by mail or in person to the treasurer's office.

Taxes are coming in faster than they have for some years. July is the last month to get the five per cent discount with the addition of the first day in August. Payment now will avoid the rush later.

In addition to medical bills the county commissioners are now responsible for the payment of dental bills for relief cases. An order has come from Harrisburg to this effect.

Folks have peculiar ideas of the value of their property. The commissioners have been settling damage claims on the Brumfield-Franklin highway in the Hillsville district and have effected some very fair settlements. One property out there consists of an ordinary house, the land under which is owned by people other than the house owner.

The commissioners were willing to settle for $2000, which seemed like an eminently fair price for the owner of the house. He insisted he was entitled to $7000. The commissioners haven't settled it yet.

There will be no sentence court Saturday but there will be several petitions and motions heard. No court at all Monday, July 4, and on July 6 divorce court will be in session.

In the office of Prothonotary and Clerk of Courts John A. Edgar, Richard Paul Melvin, by his father and next friend, Paul Paul H. Melvin, has filed a suit against Paul Gutter for $1000 damages claimed on account of injuries received December 8, 1937. The boy was sledging on Bedford street on that date, it is said, and the car of Gutter hit him.

Alfred D. Dickson files a suit for divorce from his wife, Helen G. Dickson, alleging indignities to person, excessive intoxication and infidelity. They were married July 18, 1935.

Eva Torrells by her next friend Ruth Sandbrook, files for a divorce from Tony Torrells, alleging indignities to person. They were married September 27, 1935.

Madeline Lutz files for a divorce from Daniel Lutz alleging desertion. They were married June 23, 1932.

Edward E. Yeager files for a divorce from his wife, Della G. Yeager, alleging desertion. They were married March 18, 1909.

John Jurro files for a divorce from Emma J. Jurro, alleging desertion. They were married August 29, 1936.

Mrs. Winifred James, law librarian, is confined to her home by illness. She has not been at her desk for several days.

Two 15-minute reels of motion pictures of scenes in Ireland, England, France, Germany, Belgium, old Austria, Switzerland and Italy, taken by Dr. and Mrs. James D. Crawford on their European trip last winter, were enjoyed by members of the Kiwanis club at their luncheon in the Castleton yesterday.

The films were shown by John P. Boyles, Vice President Daniel H. Trehear, Jr. presided in the absence of President Orville Potter, who is attending the Kiwanis International convention in San Francisco.

Likes New Plan

For Local Traffic

WASHINGTON, June 30.—Any effort to have congress enact special legislation restoring Countess Hauke-Reventlow, the former Barbara Hutton, the American citizenship she summarily cast aside to become a Danish subject, will be blocked by Rep. Dickstein (D) of New York.

He also said he will fight attempts to have the courts circumvent the long procedure the Senate-10 cent new business must follow if she wants to regain her citizenship.

Dickstein is a vocal member of the House immigration committee, which has been studying the matter for some time.

New arrangement of traffic lights east and west in Washington street and north and south on cross streets is working out all right, according to Rex Hughes, city electrician. He said that east and west traffic, operating at 17 miles an hour, time green lights ahead of them usually.

Court Battle Over Rates May Be Occasioned

Any Attempt By ICC To Raise Intrastate Rates
On Anthracite Will Bring Battle

HANDSOME IN THE COURT—Any attempt by the Interstate Commerce Commission to raise intrastate rates on anthracite coal will probably result in a bitter battle, the Public Utility Commission indicated today.

Public Utility Commissioner Thomas C. Burman, announced the investigation ordered by the I. C. C. into Pennsylvania's railroad rates on hard coal shipments, said: "This action is undoubtedly an outgrowth of our action in refusing to grant the plea of the railroads for suspension of the higher rates for shipments ordered by the I. C. C. state rates ordered by the I. C. C."

Asked what the procedure would be in the event the federal commission follows its open hearing on July 20 decided in favor of the railroads, Burman advised:

"In the event the I. C. C. found the intrastate rates were prejudicial to interstate commerce and ruled to that effect the railroads would probably go into court to force the P. U. C. to place the increased rates into effect."

"In that event the P. U. C. would probably oppose their plea in court and would be upheld in its stand by the coal operators and dealers."

United States Will Not Build Ships At Once

Navy Has Now Under Way Two New 35,000 Ton Battleships

WASHINGTON, June 30--Despite the fact that the United States, Great Britain and France today formally agreed to raise the tonnage limit of battleships above 35,000 tons, none of these three super-dreadnaughts will be built by the United States for some time to come. It was authoritatively learned today.

The agreement to escalate, which was precipitated by information that Japan is building 46,000-ton battleships, will have no immediate effect upon America's super-navy program. It was stated at the navy department.

Building Two Ships
The American Navy now has well underway two new 35,000-ton battleships and was given orders for four more of these battleships to be laid down between now and July 1, 1939. Three others are authorized under the new Navy bill, which replaces the Vinson-Trammell act, but funds will not be available until the next congress meets.

President Roosevelt said last Friday the four new battleships will be of 35,000-tons each, just as are the two already building. The Navy department will open bids on the four new ships July 15.

FIRST ACCIDENT AT 97
NEW BRITAIN, Conn.--At the age of 97, Mrs. Rose Mieczowski broke her record of having no accidents. She fell to the floor as she was raising and suffered a fractured hip.

MUNICIPAL AIRPORTS
CHICAGO--Approximately $500,000,000 has been invested in municipal airports by the American cities. This is equal to $30,000 for each private and commercial transport plane in the country.

Progress of conservatives: (1) "Down with the Reds!" (2) "Aw, let's be fair to working men." (3) "Let's be broad-minded and--er--not stick our necks out."

President Of New York State
Elks Association To Come
For Local Fete

Hon. Henry C. Wenzel, Jr., president of the New York State Elks Association, will come to New Castle in August for the 32nd annual convention of the Pennsylvania State Elks Association. Wenzel informed leaders here that he will come here for part of the sessions.

Scheduled for August 22 to 25, the state convocation promises to bring to New Castle one of the largest convention throngs ever to convene here.

Five special trains from various sections of the state will bring many of the delegates. The closing day of the convention, Thursday, August 25, will feature a parade and 25,000 Elks and their families and friends are expected to be in the city for it.

AROUND CITY HALL

It appears that the under-dream on the sewer pipe which is being laid between the Schuylkill river and North Merer street fulfilled its purpose during the heavy rainstorms of Saturday and Sunday. According to Glen R. Throop, the water which fell in the trench passed off through the openings beneath the pipe. When a discussion concerning its purchase was held it was pointed out by James Mercer, foreman of the project, that it would be possible to lay the tile in water and this has come true, according to Throop.

Indications are that if the city buys 457 parking meters, some of them may be either closed or relocated. It is reported that the Croton avenue meters are not used very much. The meters along Washington street and on cross streets, such as Mill and Merer street are most patronized. According to reports from the city treasury yesterday the amount collected Tuesday will be about the same amount as the total collected for the former 10 day period. The last 10 day period brought about $800.00.

Police made a quick run Wednesday to the First National bank when a burglar alarm was accidentally set off. All the cars were headed to town and the doors were open. It required the police only a few seconds to seize the machine guns, rifles and tear gas weapons. However, in speaking of the false call Chief of Police Ralph A. Criswell today requested that pedestrians who flock to banks when they hear a burglar alarm are foolish. "If a bank robbery occurred and pedestrians flock to the door to see what they would expose themselves to bandit bullets and interfere with police operations. Keep away from institutions when a burglar alarm goes off" is the advice of the chief of police.

The life-boat kept at the city police station has been useful since it was secured. The boat was obtained from Cascade park and the master mechanic built a carriage and "tongue" for the purpose of connecting it to police cars. It has been used for various purposes and is always available in time of need. In case of drowning persons should call No. 8, One Thousand or 568. No. 8 is the police station. One Thousand is the State motor police and 568 the sheriff's office. These officers are always interested in saving life.

Expects Flood Control Work Will Continue

(Special To The News)

PITTSBURGH, June 29.—With $7,500,000 bonded in 1934 for flood control work through the signing of the commonwealth control bill yesterday by President Roosevelt, Col. W. E. Covel, head of the U. S. Engineers in the district area, today confidently looked forward to continuation of the projects already under way and hoped to get others started during the present fiscal year.

The money has already been put at his disposal and he reiterated, he felt it would mean definite assurance of continuation of the projects at Tonawanda and Crooked Creek, as well as the proposed improvements at Johnstown. Furthermore, he maintained, the bill would expedite rather than delay the engineers' program.

This is the view he has held for some time, and was first revealed through an article by International News Service more than two weeks ago when it was feared the bill might delay progress of the flood control projects in Pennsylvania.

The new omnibus bill provides that the federal government rather than the commonwealth must acquire title to all land, easements, rights-of-way and hydro-electric power.

Although the state act of assembly of 1935 provided the state should retain all the rights, Col. Covel said he did not think there would be a great deal of difficulty determining the status quo on the question involved. He definitely stated he had received no "stop work" orders from Washington and that he did not anticipate receiving any.

B'NAI B'RITH MEETS TONIGHT

Tonight at 9 o'clock, in the Cosmo club, North Mercer street, members of B'Nai B'Rith lodge will hold their regular meeting.

New Castle's Debt Below Average Of Other Cities

(Special To The News)
NEW YORK, June 30.—New Castle, with a net bonded debt of $60.54 for each resident of the city, is in a healthier financial position than most other cities of its size in the country. The comparison is made in a survey just completed by the National Municipal Review, covering 286 principal cities.

The net bonded debt of all cities in New Castle's population class, 30,000 to 50,000, was $87.38 per person as of January 1, 1935. For all the 286 cities, the per capita was $108.51. New Castle's net bonded debt, representing all such debt except sinking funds and self-supporting utilities, was $2,946,596 at the beginning of the year.

The survey discloses that the bonded debt of American cities, except those between 30,000 and 50,000 population, is growing smaller. It indicates the post-depression efforts of the cities to free themselves of the burden of fixed charges for debt services, according to the compilers.

Spies Will Get Death Sentences

(International News Service)
PARIS, June 30.—Premier Edouard Daladier's government today published a decree instituting the death sentence in peace-time for spies apprehended in France.

The law, in many respects, similar to those operating in Germany and Italy, permits the government to constitute special military and naval tribunals for the trials of espionage suspects.

Workers Alliance Plans Campaign

Endorses Movement For Higher Pay For Employees Of W. P. A.

Unanimous endorsement by the Workers Alliance of New Castle was given to the State-wide campaign for a minimum $60.50 wage on WPA for common labor and corresponding increase for all categories. The meeting held last night at the Wallace Block, was one of the largest in attendance.

The first step decided on by the Alliance is to arrange a preliminary conference of representatives of all groups of organized labor, as well as such groups as the Townsend movement, civic and religious organizations, to set up a Community Committee for higher pay on WPA. This preliminary conference was agreed on to be held on Saturday, July 9th at 2 p. m. at the Wallace Block.

Simultaneously with the calling of the conference, drive has been initiated to secure the endorsement of the campaign by all WPA workers. This will be done by asking every WPA worker to sign an authorization card.

The Workers' Alliance meeting also went on record criticizing the attack on Aubrey Williams, deputy WPA administrator, who has come out offering co-operation to the Workers Alliance, and urging them to go out and build up public sentiment for their program. Letters will be dispatched to President Roosevelt, to Mr. Hopkins and also to the Senate Committee which made the attack on Mr. Williams.

Report Japan Promises To Halt Bombings

(International News Service)
VATICAN CITY, June 30.—Japan has promised to cease bombing "open" cities in China as the result of an appeal by Pope Pius, Osservatore Romano, the official organ of the Holy See, said today.

Using vigorous language, according to Osservatore, the pope urged Tokyo to "halt useless butchery and the bombing of 'open' Chinese cities."

Apostolic Delegate Marella conveyed the pope's plea to Foreign Minister Kozushige Utsuki in Tokyo. Utsuki, added the papal newspaper, said "I understand the high motives which induced the Holy See to take this step."

Then he gave assurances, according to Osservatore, that everything would be done to assure the safety of civilian populations and non-combatants.

Flood Control Bill Signed

Roosevelt Reluctantly Announces Signing Of Measure To Spend $375,000,000

HYDE PARK, N. Y., June 30.—With "some reluctance," President Roosevelt Wednesday announced he had signed the $375,000,000 flood control bill authorizing public works on rivers and harbors from the Mississippi Basin to the lower Mississippi Valley and westward to the Atlantic coast.

In an explanatory statement, Mr. Roosevelt declared the measure was not a step in the right direction in the set-up provided for general government planning. He stated the measure, which authorizes but does not appropriate, because it provides an improvement in governmental control over the properties involved.

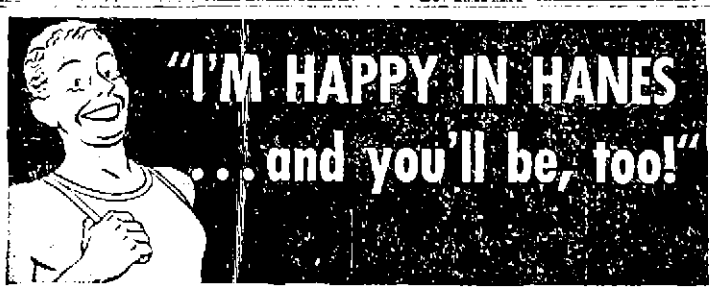

Makes Statement
"I have approved this bill with some reluctance. It represents but does not appropriate the money for a large number of public works on rivers and harbors. These authorizations being in addition to many other very large authorizations already on the statute books for for which money has not yet been appropriated."

"It is unnecessary for me to emphasize the importance of carrying on a large and continuing program to eliminate floods, lessen soil erosion, continue reclamation, encourage reforestation and improve navigation."

"Insofar as this bill provides for an improvement in jurisdictional control over the properties involved, and a more adequate control over consequential power developments, it is a definite step in the right direction."

"It is not a step in the right direction in the set-up provided for general government planning."

Huge Tax Yield During Fiscal Year In Nation

About $6,250,000,000 Paid In Since Last July 1; Nearly All-Time Record

By ERIC FRIEDHEIM
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 30.—Averaging a tax yield of nearly $12,000 per minute, the federal government prepared to wind up its 1938 fiscal year with the heaviest volume of revenue since 1920 and write into the second most profitable year in the history of the treasury.

The combination of boom times prevailing during most of 1937 and high tax schedules enabled the government to take in about $6,250,000,000 since last July 1, only $440,000,000 more than the 1920 record. This year's receipts were approximately $2,000,000,000 greater than lush periods in 1920 and 1930.

Matched against this huge income, however, were expenditures of approximately $7,700,000,000, or more than $14,000 per minute.

This gives the treasury a deficit of $1,450,000,000, according to preliminary statistics.

Although President Roosevelt last January predicted the margin of expenditures over receipts would not exceed $1,088,000,000, the current deficit remained well below that of last year and was the smallest since 1931.

The period of comparative prosperity throughout 1937 coupled with the undisturbed profits tax and higher surtaxes, enabled the treasury to collect $2,540,000,000 through income taxes during the past 12 months. This volume was exceeded only by the post-war years of 1919-21.

Canoe Trip Is Great Adventure For Two Youths

Two Boys Complete Canoe Trip From Warren, Pa., To Pittsburgh

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, June 30.—Two Sea Scouts, Daniel Kennedy, 18, and Sherwood Paulin 17, today described their 12-day, 700 mile canoe trip from Warren to Pittsburgh as "the greatest adventure of our lives."

The tanned and weary youths docked here last night, announcing they had chartered the channel of the Allegheny river the entire distance.

They camped alongside the river each night, and limited themselves to $1-a-day spending money for food. In their daily log were recorded experiences such as shipping a lot of water on their first day out, and pulling their canoe through shallow spots where they attempted to explore the Clarion river into Cook Forest.

They made the trip, they said, to qualify for a higher rank in the Sea Scouts.

GRANGE MEETING
Millburn grange held its regular meeting on Friday evening. An interesting program was directed by the lecturer, Mrs. Edith Neal.

The following extract from a letter, written by a former grange member was read at the meeting and is an interesting testimony to what the grange does for its members: "I ran got another job and can consider myself very lucky. She is coaching the volleyball team, too. She certainly got lots of experience at volleyball at the grange. I've just realized since I left home what a marvelous institution the grange is for country people. There are so many things we learned that have been a great help. I wouldn't be able to make my own clothes, which is a great saving. If I hadn't had the opportunity to take lessons through the efforts of the grange, the people in the country don't appreciate what a help it is. I think it is only when you are away from things that you realize the full value of them."

The juvenile grange initiated a class of three at their meeting.

Parachute-Bombs Latest Invention For Use By Army

Aerial-Bombs Could Be Used

Could Be Dropped By Planes
At Fast Rate And Could
Annihilate Cities

By ROBERT C. NIXON

WASHINGTON, June 30—The army air corps has developed parachute-bombs to bring swift annihilation to an enemy attacking American shores.

The bombs make possible the laying down of a pattern, heavily concentrated, of incendiary bombs on any target within a range of several hundred miles.

The aerial properties are unleashed by the action of a parachute which causes the bombs to fall down slowly on the heads of the helpless troops or ships.

Without Equals

To make these new missiles the most destructive single aerial weapon possessed by any nation, the army air corps has developed the type of plane designed for low-flying attacks on ground troops, ammunition dumps and supply depots, air fields and truck columns.

The ship combines the effectiveness of the bomber and pursuit ships. It flies close to the ground, clipping the tree tops, and at speed near 300 miles an hour. It carries a heavy load of small bombs and is armed with six machine guns.

With No Defense

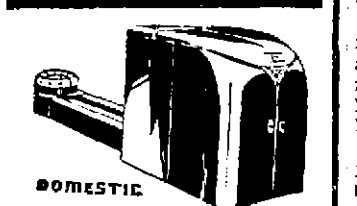

The ships strike so swiftly and fly so close to the ground that effective defense against them is virtually impossible.

At a thousand yards from their target the ships begin to spray 2,000 bullets a minute. Split seconds later they unleash their loads of parachute-bombs, and as they roar over their target at 300 miles an hour, the bombs are falling.

near machine gun points out a deadly rain of lead at the fast receding objective.

The bombs vary in size but are chiefly of 25-pounds for use on ground troops and airplanes on the ground. They are known as "daisy cutters" because of the manner in which they scatter their deadly steel fragments close to the ground.

Planes Speed Away

The bombs carry parachutes for the reason that they are dropped from the planes so close to the ground that the instantaneous explosion would blow the wings of the attacking planes. The parachutes delay the bomb fall only sufficiently to enable the speeding planes to get safely out of the way of their concussion.

A flight of nine attack ships, flying in echeloned rows, can cover an enemy air field completely with the effectiveness of a barrage of field artillery in one swooping attack.

The air corps now has this particular type of ship in far greater numbers than any other type of ship. The exact number, for reasons of national defense, is an army secret. They will get their first major workout at the third army maneuvers in the south and southwest in August.

It's No Surprise That You're Constipated!

If constipation has you bogged down so you feel tired, sunk, all played out—it's time you asked yourself some questions!

How often do you eat? Do you eat late? Just meat, bread, eggs, potatoes? It's no surprise you're constipated! The chances are you don't get enough "bulk" and "bulk" doesn't mean a lot of food. It's a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft, "bulky" mass in the intestines and helps a bowel movement.

It is this what you lack, your ticket to crisp, crunchy Kellogg's All-Bran for breakfast every day. It contains the "bulk" you need plus Nature's great intestinal tonic, vitamin B.

Eat All-Bran every day, drink plenty of water, and take a new lease on life! All-Bran is made by Kellogg in Battle Creek, Sold by every grocer.

Japanese Troops Drive On Hankow

Fall Of Powerful Forts At Matang On Yangtze River Threat To Provisional Capital

SHANGHAI, June 30—Nippon's military steam-roller pushed on toward Hankow, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's provisional capital, today as Chinese troops finally abandoned their positions at Matang after putting up fierce resistance.

Fall of the powerful Chinese forts at Matang on the Yangtze river valley was considered a grave threat to the safety of Hankow. Hundreds of foreigners already have evacuated that city.

The Chinese army of some 200,000 men retreated from the shell-battered Matang defenses after a bitter three-day battle. Late today the Japanese were reported occupying the forts, which are but 185 miles east of Hankow.

At the same time, Nipponese warplanes and artillery continued to blast the boom thrown across the river at Matang to open a path for warships to proceed up the river against Hankow.

Thousands were reported slain or wounded while the Matang battle was in progress. Heavier casualties were suffered by the Chinese under incessant aerial and naval bombardments.

Barber Shop Hours Measure Adopted

Council Passes Ordinance Fixing Opening And Closing Hours For Shops

Council today adopted an ordinance regulating the days and hours when barber shops here may be open.

The ordinance was urged by the barbers who were represented in council meeting by Attorney G. W. Muse.

The attorney said the request was being made by 85 per cent of the barbers in the city.

City Controller Holds Up Payment

It developed in council meeting at city hall today that S. L. Lockley, controller, has refused to honor bills presented by the Koonitz company of Pittsburgh, rendered for traffic lights and controls sold to the city.

The lights were bought last year with a promise by the city to pay for them this year in view of a new state law which prohibited the erection of over-head lights after a certain period.

Lockley maintains that the purchases were made without ordinance and were in excess of $500. The bill he said today amounts to about $2,700.

It was indicated during council that mandamus proceedings to compel payment may be brought in Lawrence county court.

The vote: Nye 88,892; Langer 84,112.

Playground At Cascade Park

Youths of the N. Y. A. are instructing and supervising the playground at the lower end of Cascade park, near the band stand. The ground has been graded off and some equipment has been placed in position and will be ready for use in about a week's time.

If any person has any playground equipment not in use, Supt. Coulard would be glad if it would be donated for this worthy purpose.

FOX REGRETS ESCAPE
(International News Service)
GRAVEDFORD, Ore.—This freedom business isn't all that it might be for domestically raised animals, judging from the antics of a silver fox raised on the A. B. Crawford fox farm.

The fox escaped from its pen last January, and recently appeared at a ranch twenty miles from the Crawford farm in a near-starved condition. It submitted tamely to capture, and was returned to its owners.

Second-Half Of City Softball League Season To Start Friday Night

The final meeting of the year for the City Softball League managers and officials was held at the Y. last night with Franklin R. Crisci presiding.

Mr. Crisci thanked Don Costello, Clem General and Red Keller for their services in handling the benefit game last night. The league managers gave Mr. Crisci a vote of thanks for his untiring efforts in making the league the success that it has attained.

The Reds have announced their intention of making it tough for the teams the second-half. The Reds were the first-half champions. The winners of the two halves will meet in the fall for the league title.

SOUTH HILLS TO BATTLE CIVICS

The South Hills team of the County Baseball league will battle the Union Civics tonight at the South Hill field at 6 o'clock. A war should be a fast game. The Civics will use George Schaefer in an effort to wrest a victory from the county team. South Hills will probably use either Clark or Peck. Huston on the hill.

MARANOVS WIN ANOTHER

The Marano's softball team topped the Ross A. C. yesterday at the R. & O. field 26 to 18, with the star of the game being J. Scrim with a homer and triple.

And the poor Browns got off to a good start but wound up as usual on the short end. The White Sox putting on a six-run drive to turn them, 9-5. Messers, Reuse, Radchil and Owen said it with homers for the Sox.

Radiators Trim Nobils Team 4-1

Over 2,000 Fans Watch Rads-Nobils In Benefit Game, Crisci Delivers Speech

GREG ROSS IS WINNING HURLER

Before more than 2,000 fans the National Radiators defeated the Nobils last night at Gaston Park field in a benefit game for young Stanley Lubenski, and President Franklin R. Crisci of the City league announced today that the collection was $18.54 to help the injured kid.

The score of the game was 4 to 1 with Greg Ross the winning pitcher. The Lubenski fund is now over the $20 mark.

It was the largest crowd in the history of softball in the city of New Castle and shows that the sport is gaining quite a foothold here in Pa. News domain. The game has been played here for the past 10 years, but has never drawn the crowds that the games this year have.

Fast Game
The game was one of the best of the year and found the Rads hammering Pezzone and Bishara for 10 hits, while Gregg Ross applied the handuffs to the Nobils with a four hit pitching.

Frank Stone with a double in the first inning drove in two of the Rads runs. The first half champs did not tally until the last of the sixth. The Rads tallied in the first, fifth and seventh. Nickie Ross and Goz also hit the ball hard for the Rads. Cecilia hit a triple and scored the only run for the Nobils. Greg Ross fanned five men. Bishara and Samy Pezzone fanned seven between them.

Counts In League
The game counted in the league standing and gives the Rads the leadership. The rest of the league starts on Friday night.

After a brief introductory speech last night, Mr. Crisci, the chief executive of the league hurried the first ball and the game was "on". Three City league umpires—Red Keller, Clem General and Don Costello donated their services to the teams and did a swell job of umpiring.

Score by innings:
Radiators 200 010 100-4 10 1
Nobils 000 001 000-1 4 0
Batteries: Radiators: Greg Ross and Formatore.
Nobils: Pezzone, Bishara, Turco and Richards.
Umps—Costello, Keller and General.

Hope To Save Fruit Crop By Using Parasites

State Sends 1,260 Parasites To Erie County To Be Placed In Orchards

ORIENTAL MOTHS ARE DOING DAMAGE

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, June 30.—Like an army, detailing its forces to meet an attack, the state department of agriculture moved to combat an invasion of Pennsylvania's rich peach areas by the Oriental fruit moth with the aid of native parasites.

A state plane left the capital on Wednesday for Erie with a shipment of 1,260 parasites, all raised on the state's experimental farm at Ruthersford, near Harrisburg.

Will Place Parasites
Arriving at Erie the parasites were placed in the peach orchards in the northwestern Pennsylvania peach belt for an attack upon the Oriental invader.

H. M. Turrell, deputy secretary of agriculture, who accompanied the parasite shipment, explained one parasite to six peach trees should be sufficient to halt the fruit moth's attacks.

Turrell said this was the first shipment by the state, although the federal government has successfully used this method of fighting harmful insects before.

Try To Save Crop
J. Russell French, state secretary of agriculture, ordered the shipment to save Erie county's fruit crop which was damaged up to 75 per cent last year.

Since the parasite insects live only eight days after maturity, they were shipped in tied cans to arrest their development. They are an elongated wasp-like insect with six hair-like legs and two antennae and are about the size of a common ant.

Their scientific name is Microgaster areolaris.

Other shipments will be made to Erie and other counties as the parasites mature, it was announced.

Happenings And Items Of Interest At Big Tin Plate Plants Here.

STEEL
The part that steel has played in world developments taxes the imagination and surpasses fairy stories in interest.

While this commodity and its derivations have been known to and used by man for 3400 years, it's practical and universal use has developed in the past century.

One night, many years ago, a young telegraph operator was sitting at his instrument receiving orders and dispatching trains when the news came over the wire that a wooden railroad bridge was burning somewhere near Braddock, Pa.

As he sent the messages which stopped trains and informed their crews of the danger, the idea of steel bridges was conceived, and Andrew Carnegie formed the company that today bears his name. This company was the forerunner of the United States Steel Corporation and many other great companies made possible through the development of steel.

To mention a few: Our transportation systems which quickly haul crops, livestock and produce to their destinations and carry the public to and fro across the face of America with maximum comfort and minimum danger. Autos in quantities sufficient to take the whole country for a ride at the same time. The radio, by which the human voice may be heard the world around in a derivative of steel. Ocean going liners which transport thousands of passengers and tons of material across the Atlantic in less than a week and to other points on the globe in a proportionate time. Skyscrapers high enough and large enough to accommodate a small city. The development and practical uses of electricity to the accommodation of man. These and many other uses of steel have made it most universally used of all metals.

Yet steel today is still in the period of development. From one of the heavier metals, it bids fair in the future to compare favorably in weight with aluminum without losing its strength.

Tailor-made steel for specific uses has made possible many worthwhile achievements, such as auto travel on a oval track at a speed of 117 miles per hour for 500 miles; an airplane traveling from San Francisco to New York in less than 10 hours; transcontinental trains, radio and wireless, so common that their wonders are forgotten; tools and tool steels of every description and for every use from the largest casting down to hair springs for the smallest watches. These are only a few of the many wonders that have been realized through the use of steel, and what is more important, we can look for more and greater wonders in the future.

Orchard Fruits Crop Is Below Average In State

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, June 30.—Warm weather during most of the week favored crop growth and development although heavy rain caused unestimated damage in some areas. The U. S. Department of Agriculture reported Wednesday in its weekly synopsis of weather and crop conditions in Pennsylvania.

The report added:

"Rains were generally light in the Susquehanna basin, and northwestern counties are rather dry, while moisture is ample in the southwest. Rain was excessive in the Delaware drainage area.

"Corn made a good growth generally, and some field in York, Lancaster and Chester counties are being cut for the first time.

"Rye harvest is well advanced in the southern portion and wheat harvest is beginning while the oats crop promises to be above average. Pastures and meadows are good in most areas, and haying is well advanced. Potatoes are doing well generally, but appearance of the potato beetle threatens damage to the late crop.

"Truck crops are in good shape and markets are well supplied with produce of good quality. But the outlook for orchard fruits does not and cannot improve. The present crop is below average in the greater portion of the state."

Why is the big shot a deadbeat? Well, being a big shot enables him to buy much and pay nothing, while if he paid what he owes, he'd be too poor to be a big shot.
